International Society of Occupational Ergonomics

by Jeff Fernandez & Tom Leamon

More than 20 years ago the purpose of the organization was to support research and application projects, and to encourage and exchange information in the field of occupational ergonomics and safety. With the growth of the occupational ergonomics and safety disciplines and in the membership of national and international societies devoted to theoretical questions, the ISOES focus has shifted a little to address specific issues. Our current emphasis is not on the basic researcher but the applied researcher and on the practitioner who needs information or would like to share their experiences. We encourage and support both the publication of academically sound research into applications and reports of applications and case studies from the field by practitioners.
