

Announcement re first ISOES Webinar

The International Society for Occupational Ergonomics and Safety (ISOES) is happy to announce the forthcoming Webinar: The Overturning of the Chevron Decision—what it is and its possible implications for the occupational safety and health communities.

March 13th, 2025 at noon, EST; 45 minutes (Q&A included)

Our own, esteemed Executive Committee member, Mr. James G. Borchardt, and ISOES Past President Dr. Sang Choi, will be presenting on this timely topic. ISOES will host the Webinar via Zoom. The Webinar will be moderated by Ms. Raina Shah.

Topics will include the following:

- A synopsis of this landmark decision and potential implications for OSHA regulations,
- Potential changes OSH professionals may make in their day-to-day practice,
- What impact this decision may have on the OSH profession overall.

Register HERE:

<https://www.cognitofirms.com/ISOES1/ISOESWebinarRegistration>

James G. Borchardt, CSP, CPE, has 55 years of safety, health and ergonomic experience in the industrial and construction insurance industry. Since 2000, he has served on various subcommittees of the ANSI A10 Construction Standards Committee. Since 2017, he has been the principal and managing consultant of Construction Ergonomics LLC. Borchardt is an emeritus professional member of ASSP's Quad Cities Chapter, and a member of the Society's Construction and Ergonomics Practice Specialties.

Sang Daniel Choi, Ph.D., MPH, MS, CSP, CPE, is experienced educator, award-winning researcher, and a lifelong learner. Dr. Choi is a Professor of Global and Community Health in the College of Public Health at George Mason University. Dr. Choi's interests are Occupational and Environmental Health & Safety, Ergonomics/Human Factors, Risk Assessment, Heat Stress, Injury/Fall Prevention, and Industrial/Community Health & Safety. Dr. Choi has produced over 170 high-quality refereed publications, and invited multiple times as the keynote speaker & session chair at prestigious national and international professional meetings. Professor Choi is a proponent of efforts to integrate research into the practice and is dedicated to bridge the gap between academia and the OESH profession - Research to Practice to Research (RtPtR). Dr. Choi was the President (2018 - 2019) of the International Society for Occupational Ergonomics and Safety (ISOES). He is a Professional Member of American Society of Safety Professionals (ASSP) and American Public Health Association (APHA).